GENERAL ELECTION RESULTS SUMMARY

STATEWIDE

Republicans again won all statewide offices on the ballot. Democrats have not held a statewide office in Texas since 1994. That is the year that George W. Bush defeated Governor Ann Richards. Even though the Republicans captured the governorship in 1994, four Democrats were elected statewide: Lt. Governor Bob Bullock, Attorney General Dan Morales, Comptroller John Sharp, and Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, and they were the last Democrats elected to statewide office in Texas. 2014 has been an historic election year in Texas because of the record number of open statewide seats (no incumbent). Excluding Supreme Court and Court of Criminal Appeals races, seven of the eight statewide races were open this year. The only statewide incumbents seeking re-election were U.S. Senator John Cornyn and Lt. Governor David Dewhurst. Dewhurst was defeated in the Republican Primary Run-off. Note: 104 precincts are still not reported. They will not change the outcome of any of the races.

U.S. Senate

Senator John Cornyn (R-Austin) won re-election with 61.58% of the vote over Democrat David Alameel of Dallas (34.34%). Libertarian Rebecca Paddock of Garland had 2.87% of the vote, Green Party candidate Emily "Spicybrown" Sanchez received 1.17%, and Write-In candidate Mohammed Tahiro took 0.02%.

Governor

Attorney General Greg Abbott (R-Austin) will replace Rick Perry as Governor of Texas. Abbott won with 59.28% of the vote to Democrat Wendy Davis' 38.88%. Libertarian Kathie Glass received 1.40%; Green Party candidate Brandon Parmer had 0.39%; and Write-In Sarah M Pavatt took 0.02%.

Lt. Governor

Senator Dan Patrick (R-Houston) who defeated Lt. Governor David Dewhurst in the Republican Primary Run-off will succeed Dewhurst as Lt. Governor. Patrick defeated Democratic Senator Leticia Van de Putte 58.16% - 38.68%. Libertarian Robert D. Butler received 2.55%, and Green Party candidate Chandrakantha Courtney took 0.59%.

Attorney General

Senator Ken Paxton (R-McKinney) won the race to replace Greg Abbott as Attorney General by defeating Democrat Sam Houston 58.84% to 37.99%. The Libertarian, Jamie Balagia, and Green Party candidate, Jamar Osborne got 2.53% and 0.63%.

Comptroller

Senator Glenn Hegar (R-Katy) was elected comptroller with 58.39% of the vote. Democrat Michael Collier of Kingwood received 37.66%; Ben Sanders (L-Irving) had 2.96% and Deb Shafto (G-Houston) had 0.97%. Hegar will replace Comptroller Susan Combs, who did not seek re-election.

Land Commissioner

George P. Bush (R-Fort Worth), son of former Florida Governor Jeb Bush and nephew of former President George W. Bush won the Land Commissioner post with 60.88% of the vote over Democrat John Cook (35.30%), Libertarian Justin Knight (2.71%), and Green Party candidate Valeria Alessi (1.28%).

Agriculture Commissioner

Sid Miller (R-Stephenville) won the race to replace Todd Staples as Agriculture Commissioner with 58.63% of the vote. Democrat Jim Hogan got 36.80%; Libertarian David "Rocky" Palmquist received 2.87%; and Green Party candidate Kenneth Kendrick took 1.68%.

Railroad Commissioner

Ryan Sitton (R-Houston) defeated Steve Brown (D-Missouri City) with 58.31% of the vote to Brown's 36.49%. Libertarian Mark A. Miller got 3.15% and Green Party candidate Martina Salinas took 2.02%.

Texas Supreme Court

Chief Justice

Justice Nathan Hecht (R-Austin) won re-election with 59.61% of the vote over Democrat Bill Moody of El Paso (37.33%) and Libertarian Tom Oxford of Beaumont (3.05%).

Place 6

Republican Justice Jeff Brown of Houston received 60.34% of the vote to win a full term on the court. He defeated Democrat Lawrence "Larry" Meyers, who received 36.46%. Meyers was elected to the Court of Criminal Appeals as a Republican, then switched to the Democratic Party on December 9, 2013 to run for Supreme Court. Meyers will remain on the Court of Criminal Appeals through 2016. Libertarian Mark Ash got 3.18% of the vote.

Place 7

Justice Jeff Boyd (R-Austin) was re-elected with 58.92% of the vote by defeating Gina Benavides (D-McAllen), Don Fulton (L-Trophy Club), and Charles E. Waterbury (G-Dallas), who received 37.56%, 2.75%, and 0.74% respectively.
